GERMAN CHANCELLOR OLAF SCHOLZ VISITS NATO TALKED WITH SEC GENERAL J.STOLTENBERG

INCLUDING RUSSIA-UKRAINE'S TENSIONS

Paris, Washington DC, 10.12.2021, 22:07 Time

USPA NEWS - NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg welcomed Germany's Chancellor Olaf Scholz to NATO headquarters on Friday (10 December 2021) for talks on a range of issues, including Russia's substantial military build-up in and around Ukraine. Mr Scholz's visit to NATO was part of his first trip abroad as German chancellor, and the Secretary General said he looked forward to working closely with Mr Scholz. "You are a staunch, committed and strong supporter of the transatlantic Alliance", Mr Stoltenberg said at a joint news conference.

(As delivered)

Chancellor Scholz, dear Olaf,?Welcome to NATO.

Germany is an important Ally.?You contribute to our collective security in many different ways.

You are part of our mission in the Baltic region, with German jets regularly patrolling the skies as part of NATO's Baltic air policing. ?German ships contribute to NATO deployments in the Mediterranean.?German troops help to preserve peace in our mission in Kosovo.?And the NATO multinational battlegroup you lead in Lithuania helps to deter any aggression.

So today we discussed Russia's substantial military build-up in and around Ukraine.? This raises tensions, and undermines security in Europe.-----

We call on Russia to return to diplomacy.?And to de-escalate.?And to respect Ukraine's sovereignty and territorial integrity.

Neither Europe, nor North America can face these challenges alone.?We can only do so if we stand strong together in NATO.

We also discussed the importance of strengthening the bond NATO and the European Union. ?The European Union is a strategic partner to NATO.?And we are determined to do even more together.------

So dear Olaf. Once again, welcome to NATO.?It is great to have you here and please have the floor.

NATO Spokesperson, Oana Lungescu: Okay, we'll start with ZDF.

Florian Neuhann (ZDF): Florian Neuhann, ZDF, German TV. Mr. Stoltenberg first question to you. This afternoon, Russia has urged NATO to break its promise of 2008 with regard to Ukrainian membership in NATO. Are you ready to do that?

NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg: NATO's position when it comes to our relationship with Ukraine remains unchanged. And it is a fundamental principle that every nation has the right to choose his own path. This is enshrined in many documents and

We cannot accept that Russia is trying to re-establish a system where big powers like Russia have spheres of influence, where they can control or decide, what other members can do. So that's the short answer. We are going to sit down, talk with Russia, but not compromise on the right of every nation in Europe to decide their own path.

NATO Spokesperson Oana Lungescu: Okay, DPA.-----

Michael Fischer, DPA: Michael Fischer, Deutsche Presse-Agentur [question in German].?And Secretary General, I would like to know that you are worried? If you are worried that nuclear deterrence, that there is no commitment to nuclear deterrence and the 2% goal in the coalition treaty?------

The only way to do this is by continuing to invest more in defence. I think we all understand... the Chancellor Scholz, Olaf and I, we have in common that we both have been Minister of Finance, so we know it's hard to find money. So if you want more money for defence, there has to be less money for something else. So it's never easy to find money for defence. But when we reduce defence spending, when tensions went down after the Cold War, we need to be able to increase when tensions are going up as they are now. Germany has increased over the last years and the platform is clear on the need to invest in capabilities, meet the NATO capability targets and meet NATO commitments, and therefore, I'm looking forward to continue to increased defence spending budget. » Source NATO
